Microfiche Distribution Backlog Eliminated

As of September 30, 1992, the microfiche distribution backlog has been eliminated, and the Depository Distribution Division is now working on current receipts only. This will be good news to depository library staff, because the massive mailings of microfiche titles have stopped and the normal flow has resumed.

Approximately 60% of all Depository Library Program material is sent to depositories in microfiche format. New procedures put in place since April 1, 1992 will ensure that future backlogs do not develop and that current material is distributed on a timely basis. As of the first week of October, microfiche titles received in September, 1992, are being distributed.

New Update Cycle Implementation Delayed One Month

The new selection update cycle originally scheduled for implementation at the beginning of fiscal year 1993, on October 1, will be delayed for approximately 30 days.

Implementation of libraries' new item selections is anticipated on November 2, 1992. The delay will allow the Library Programs Service to distribute the titles remaining in the fiscal year 1992 backlog under the counts in effect when the materials were ordered.

Do not claim materials you added under the new selection update cycle that are distributed on shipping lists bearing the following notice at the top: "Distribution is being made according to the 1991 annual update (i.e. returned by July 5, 1991)."

Trademark Status Now Granted To the Depository Library Program Logo

On August 25, 1992, the Patent and Trademark Office issued Certificate of Registration No. 1710513 granting a trademark for the Depository Library Program logo. The certificate is reproduced on the following pages.

The logo, showing an eagle's stylized head and wing curved around an open book, has been in use since 1977. The logo is intended for use by GPO, depository libraries, and library groups in applications associated with the Federal Depository Library Program.

Any questions regarding the logo's use should be directed to: Director, Library Programs Service - SLL, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20401.

Dear Depository Librarian:

The Library Programs Service (LPS) has recently been notified that the publication, Export Licensing & Controls Seminar, from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Export Administration, should not have been distributed to depository libraries. The issuing agency stated that this manual was for internal training purposes only. Under provisions of Title 44, U.S.C. 1902, this title "is required for official use only for strictly administrative or operational purposes".

Descriptive information on this publication:

Title	SuDocs #	Shipping list #	Shipping list date	Item #
Export Licensing & Controls Seminar	C 57.108:Ex 7/4	92-0435-P	7/31/92	0231-E

I am requesting that you immediately withdraw this publication and destroy it by any means to prevent disclosure of its contents. Both LPS and the U.S. Department of Commerce regret any inconvenience resulting from the shipment of this "official use only" publication.

Sincerely,

Wayne P. Kelley

Dear Depository Librarian:

The Library Programs Service (LPS) has recently been apprised that the United States Marshals Service (USMS) publication, USMS Protective Detail Glossary of Terms, should not have been distributed to depository libraries. The USMS has informed LPS that "The classification of the subject manual prohibits its use as a reference for training or general information outside the Federal law enforcement community". Under provisions of Title 44, U.S.C. 1902, this title "is required for official use only for strictly administrative or operational purposes".

Descriptive information on this publication:

Title	SuDocs #	Shipping list #	Shipping list date	Item #
USMS Protective Detail Glossary of Terms	J 25.2:P 94	91-0818-P	12/13/91	0969-A-01

I request that you immediately withdraw this publication and mail it to the following address as soon as possible:

U.S. Marshals Service
Administrative Services Division
Publications Management Branch
600 Army Navy Drive
Arlington, VA 22202-4210

At their request, I have supplied the USMS with a list of those depository libraries which received the publication so that they can monitor the return of this publication.

Both LPS and the U.S. Marshals Service regret any inconvenience resulting from the shipment of this "official use only" publication.

Sincerely,

Wayne P. Kelley

Selective Housing, Anniversary Provide Opportunities For Documents Publicity

The depository staff at Spartanburg County Public Library in Spartanburg, S.C. have been generating positive publicity for the documents collection in 1992. Writes John Rogers, Documents Librarian:

We are ... celebrating our twenty-fifth anniversary (1967-1992) as a Federal Depository Library. We kicked off our silver anniversary year in January by inviting Congresswoman Elizabeth Patterson (D-SC) to speak to the public here and to the media about the importance of access to federal government publications. A nice crowd was in attendance and we sent publicity to the local and state library media.

Rogers enclosed a news release, shown below, on a separate event, the recent establishment of a selective housing agreement with the Sandor Teszler Library at Wofford College, also located in Spartanburg.

Congratulations on an active campaign to bring documents to the attention of the public!

NEWS RELEASE

A "Selective Housing Agreement" was recently established between the Spartanburg County Public Library and the Sandor Teszler Library, Wofford College, in Spartanburg, South Carolina. On August 21, 1992, the Directors of the two libraries formally signed the Agreement at the Main Branch of the Spartanburg County Public Library, which has been a Federal Depository Library since 1967. This Agreement allows Wofford College's Teszler Library to receive all U.S. Senate and House hearings and all Senate and House documents (microfiche format) for use in its reference department. The hearings, a rich source of subject information on a wide variety of topics and issues, will be accessible through a subscription to CIS Index, which Teszler Library also agreed to purchase to allow keyword/subject access points. The Agreement was finalized after more than five months of discussion, meetings, and planning and enhances overall access to U.S. Congressional publications to the citizens of South Carolina's Fourth Congressional District.

Also, Teszler Library has agreed to provide a microfiche reader/printer, signage, and reference service as well as technical support in technical services and acquisitions.

Dennis Bruce is County Librarian (Director) at Spartanburg County Public Library. Oakley Coburn is Director of Sandor Teszler Library (Wofford College).

Chris Rogers is Government Documents Librarian at Spartanburg County Public Library.
